In this latest series of paintings Susil Gunasiri Dixon is inspired by the writings of sage Vasugupta. The artist explores Hindu philosophy and the yoga texts that are foundational to Kashmir Shaivism. In an effort to liberate himself from the bondage of nature and cause, the artist uses his practice to strengthen his spiritual consciousness.

Born in Balangoda, Sri Lanka in 1969, Dixon completed his education at the University of Performing Arts in 1998. The artist presented solo exhibitions of his work at Phenomenal Space Gallery in 2004 and Paradise Road Galleries in 2005, 2006 as well as group participation in Sri Lanka, Pakistan, Bangladesh and India.
